

BIDS FOR SWAMP LANDS NOT TAKEN

The Amount Required For An Option Was Not Reached.

RETURN FARE TO MERCHANTS

Conditional Pardons are Granted By Governor Glenn.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RICHMOND, N. C., Nov. 18.—The State Board of Education opened bids for the purchase of State swamp lands, but were unable to get together after a lengthy session this afternoon. The board demands $500 for an option on the lands, including 6,000 acres in the Angola tract, and one bidder, H. M. Johnson, representing Norfolk parties, offers to put up $100, and Goldsboro parties, represented by Governor Aycock, as counsel, offer to put up $200. This for a ninety-day option on the lands at $1.50 per acre. The board will have a session to-morrow to consider the matter further.

The Raleigh Merchants' Association is inaugurating a system whereby railroad fare will be returned to all out of town customers who come here and deal with Raleigh merchants.

NEW CHARTERS.

The Raleigh Produce Company, with $25,000 capital, is chartered to do a general mercantile business. The incorporators are W. A. Byrd, J. G. Ball and others.

Application was made this morning on the office of the Secretary of State for a charter for the Ice Manufacturers' Society (Inc.), of Wilmington, for the evident purpose of merging a number of ice plants in Wilmington and other southern cities, the incorporators being W. E. Worth, Wilmington; George W. Baker, Columbia; S. C. W. J. Rushon, Birmingham; A. E. Ellis, Augusta, Ga.; M. W. Thompson, Greensboro. The capital is $100,000, and the articles of agreement stipulate that the company shall have authority to establish, operate, lease and sub-lease ice plants anywhere in the United States.

Other charters are to the Red Springs Trading Company, of Red Springs, Robeson county, capital $25,000, by W. J. Bryan, William Jones, John E. McNair, who subscribe $1500; the McDonald-Williams Lumber Company, of Rennett, Robeson county, capital $15,000, by J. C. McDermid, A. B. Williams and A. J. McDermid.

SPECIAL TERM.

An order is made by Governor Glenn for a special term of Edgecombe Superior Court January 15th for the trial of criminal cases. Judge E. B. Jones will preside.

Conditional pardons are granted by Governor Glenn for Elmer Woodard and Arthur Bryant, two negro boys of Johnson county serving two years on the county roads for larceny, the conditions being that they shall not be guilty of crime again, and shall lead sober, industrious lives. The pardons were recommended by the judge, solicitor, county officers and numerous citizens.

Adjutant General Roberson, of the North Carolina National Guard, makes an order adding General R. S. Young to the committee for the selection of a permanent camp site. The only sites offered thus far are at Wilmington and Morehead. No limit of time is fixed for the selection, which, when made, will be reported to Governor Glenn, as commander-in-chief of the Guard.

BARTEMUS BAILED.

Struck a Boy in the Back of the Head With a Hammer.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

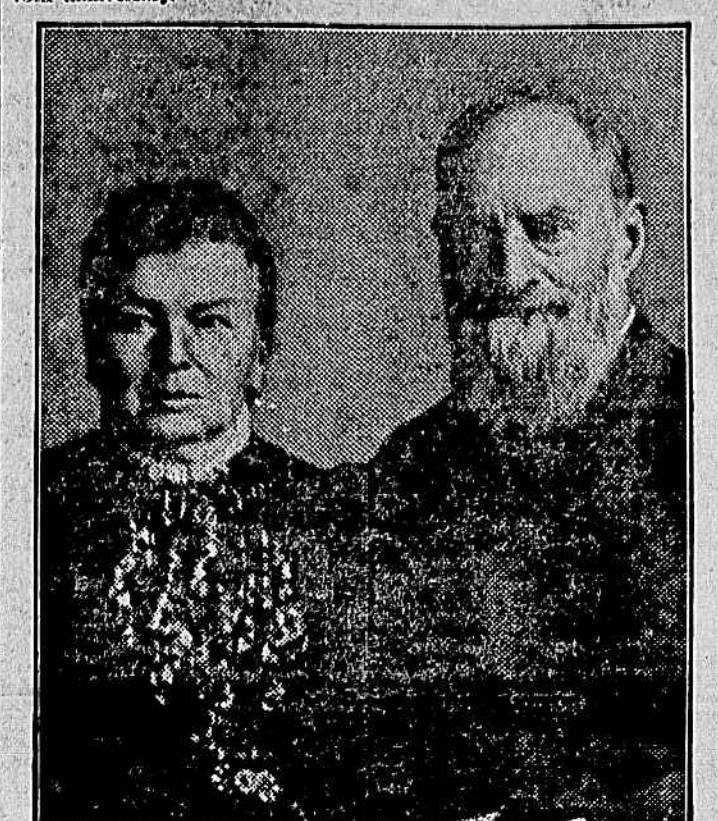

AMHERST, VA., November 18.—J. P. Bartemus, charged with having struck Charles Newcomb, a small boy, on the head with a hammer in Madison, in this county, on Wednesday of this week, was admitted to bail by Ball Commissioner John M. Payne here this afternoon. A bond of $1,000 was required, and Mr. E. F. Kirkpatrick, one of his counsel, vouches for him.

Bartemus is a carpenter and was working on a house in Madison. The boy was playing around in his way, when Bartemus threw a hammer at him and hit him on the back of the head with it. At one time it was thought that the boy would die, but the doctor has now pronounced him out of danger.

Bartemus was bailed to appear before the grand jury at the December term of the court.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. George M. Colby, of Shattsburg, Mich., who recently celebrated his golden wedding anniversary, has received much benefit from Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and hopes by its judicious use to live to celebrate his 75th anniversary.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE M. COLBY.

Mr. Colby, who is remarkably active and well preserved for his age, writes as follows: "AM SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS OF AGE AND LATELY CELEBRATED MY 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AND HOPE BY A JUDICIOUS USE OF DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY TO SEE MY 75TH ANNIVERSARY."—GEORGE M. COLBY, SHATTSBURG, MICH., AUGUST 15, 1905.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY

It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic, builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces. It makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky contains no fusel oil, and is the only whisky recognized by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

CAUTION.—Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky has been imitated and substitutes are being offered for sale by unscrupulous persons who may try to confuse you. Do not be deceived, as many of the preparations made up to imitate Duffy's are not only worthless from a medicinal standpoint, but some of them are positively dangerous to the health. Look for the "Old Chemist" trade-mark on the label and insist on getting the genuine. Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky is sold by reliable druggists and grocers everywhere, $1.00 a bottle, or you can get it direct. Advice and medical booklet free. Address Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky Co., Rochester, N. Y.

CARNEGIE PAYS $1,000 FOR ONE COLD LUNCH

Appropriated "Snack" of Locomotive Engineer Years Ago Remembers It.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PITTSBURGH, November 18.—One thousand dollars for a cold lunch belonging to an engineer and eaten in the locomotive cab is the price just paid by Andrew Carnegie.

Fred Fleck, an old locomotive engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, recently retired, has received from Mr. Carnegie a personal letter containing a check for $1,000.

In the letter Mr. Carnegie refers to a ride he had in Fleck's locomotive, near Pittsburgh, several years ago. The steel man became deeply interested in the workings of the big machine, and he also got hungry.

He rooted around in the cab until he found a dinner pail. Without asking any questions, he opened it and began to eat. The engine man recounted later that Mr. Carnegie ate like a school boy, and seemed sorry when the bottom of the pail was reached.

That lunch belonged to Fleck, but he went hungry and kept quiet.

Mr. Carnegie recently heard that an old engineer had met with financial reverses. Then he thought of the dinner-pail lunch. The check was the result.

Pennock Suit Against Bank.

The trial of the suit of J. E. and A. L. Pennock against the American National Bank was resumed in the Law and Equity Court yesterday. It will not be finished for several days as yet. The plaintiffs allege that there is a balance of $2,000 due upon their contract for constructing the bank building.

OFFERED REVENUE OFFICER A JOB

But When a License Was Spoken of Gently, a Surprise Went Around.

Representatives of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, of New York, have established an office in the city and are searching for two hundred guardsmen and gatemen for the employ of the company. They claim to have already secured seventy of the two hundred desired, and will not be in the city very much longer.

The agent here says that there is no pending strike, nor is there any strike contemplated.

Mr. Harvie Davis, of the city revenue commissioner's office, walked into the office of the two employment agents yesterday, looking for a license, and he had scarcely spoken when questions began to fly in his direction. One of the men told him what wages he would receive and the other spoke to him of how he would get to New York. While all of this was going on Mr. Davis was mute. But when he spoke of desiring to collect a tax for the trolley job in New York, there was consternation in the office for the nonce.

A Deserted Child.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, VA., November 18.—An infant child was found in Augusta county, near Burkettown, Thursday. A little boy was making the rounds of his rabbit traps when he heard a noise in a briar patch, which he thought was a wild animal. The little fellow was frightened and ran home and told his mother that he had been frightened by a "wildcat."

Some of the hands later went to see what it was, when they found an infant about four days old lying among some briars, carefully wrapped up. The mother of the child is not known.

GREAT MEETING IN LYNCHBURG

Educational Convention This Year Will Be Entirely Distinctive.

TWO VERY MAGNIFICENT GIFTS

The educational convention to be held at Lynchburg, on November 29-December 1st, will be distinctive in many ways. Instead of discussions about education in general, the problems which confront the schools in Virginia will be dealt with, and every energy bent to solve them. To this end a committee of trained men on each aspect of the work in the State has formulated a report of the actual conditions and necessary remedies. The addresses will be based largely upon these direct and first-hand studies of the teachers' own needs. This fact imparts a significance to the meeting, such as no previous convention has had.

At the Lynchburg convention many new factors in the Virginia educational field will be brought to the attention of the full strength. Mr. J. D. Eggleston, the superintendent of schools, will be outlining his structural policies for the schools. Great interest attaches to his announcements along this line, for the whole State is looking forward with pleasant anticipation to his energetic administration of these large interests. At Lynchburg, likewise the Curry School of Education, which began its work at the University of Virginia this fall, will appear in full force. The establishment of this school is a matter of profound joy; it marks an epoch in the educational advance of the State. Among the leading addresses will be those of President Alderman, Dr. Payne and Professor Heck, each of whom will put their powers into the proceedings.

Gift of Twenty Millions.

It may be recalled, too, that since the last convention in Norfolk, two magnificent gifts of ten million dollars each have been put a new face on the educational situation in America. Reference is had to the gift of Mr. Carnegie for teachers' pensions, and that of Mr. Rockefeller for higher education.

A feature of the Lynchburg convention will be the report of the results of the far-reaching May campaign. More than a hundred local school improvement leagues have been formed throughout the State. Strong delegations from these leagues will tell of what they are doing in various neighborhoods of Virginia. Indeed, the springing up of these local leagues has so enlarged the scope of the educational movement that it will probably be necessary to change the name of the State Association of Virginia's Educational Association of Virginia, to which all these local improvement leagues will be vitally related.

The Lynchburg meeting will be devoted largely to the superintendents and their problems. Owing to the recent appointment of the five inspectors and examiners, this phase of the work has peculiar interest. Addresses full of information and suggestions may be looked for from these inspectors.

Election of Officers.

At this convention all the officers of the Cooperative Education Commission are to be elected for the ensuing year. Plans are to be formulated for the future, and fellowships will be awarded anew. The programme of speakers represents the foremost men in Virginia. All persons, whether actively engaged in school work or not, are invited to attend the convention, and they will share the inspiration of these meetings in Lynchburg.

Mr. E. C. Glass has worked indefatigably to perfect arrangements for the comfort of those attending the meeting. A special train will leave for Lynchburg on the morning of the 29th. The round trip from Richmond has been given by the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western Railroads; and all hotels and boarding houses in Lynchburg give special rates.

That the Richmond teachers may have the benefit of this great uplift the city schools will be closed from Wednesday afternoon till Monday.

CHESTER CHIT-CHAT.

Young Men Rent An Ice Pond For Winter Sport.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHESTER, VA., Nov. 18.—Rev. C. C. Jordan, the rector of the Methodist church, will leave here to-day to take his new field of labor at Boykins. Mrs. Jordan and children will go to Amelia to visit some friends there, before going to Boykins. The new pastor, Rev. J. J. Taylor, expected here to take charge next Thursday.

Yesterday afternoon, little Miss Elsie Coon celebrated her ninth birthday by giving a party to her schoolmates and friends of the town, and the children had a happy time.

Mr. Joseph H. Williamson and Dr. A. L. Hurt have got the track of some wild turkeys, near James river, and have brought in two, and are preparing to send them to the market.

Mr. Gus Burton, a druggist from Newport News, is here recuperating his health.

Messrs. James Strother and Edward Robertson are attending the Mechanics' Institute in Richmond.

The young men of the town have rented the ice pond on Captain James L. Sheel for skating the coming season, and have formed a club for its management and control. Skating on this pond has been a source of great pleasure and pastime for the citizens of this community for several years past.

Yesterday afternoon the W. C. T. U. Society held a meeting here, and at night conducted a "box party" at the hotel, under charge of Mrs. J. B. Perdue, and other temperance workers, assisted by the "Y." A number of the young people attended and had a most enjoyable time.

The boxes were auctioned off, and the society realized about fifteen dollars.

These boxes of candy goods are given by the "Y." and are intended to be sold and consumed by the children after they are bought, is both interesting and amusing, and the young people greatly enjoy the pastime.

Mr. C. W. Pugh acted as auctioneer, and his "Victor" talking machine, which added to the occasion.

Mrs. Dr. A. J. Hurt, principal of an Eastern graded school, is getting up an entertainment to be held here next week of recitations, dramas and plays, with the children of the school. The recitations is gotten up both for the entertainment of the public and to help pay for the organ recently purchased for the school room. Mrs. Hurt is a good hand at training children for such entertainments, and the public will get the full benefit of the admittance fee, as well as encourage the children.

Mr. E. W. Ellison has received all of his machinery for his ice plant here, and an expert from the factory is here putting in the machinery to be ready for use next spring.

Mrs. J. H. Hurt is a good hand at training children for such entertainments, and the public will get the full benefit of the admittance fee, as well as encourage the children.

HATCHET FIGURES AGAIN IN COURT

Edward Huzzard Goes to Grand Jury For Improper Use Thereof.

George Washington, Ananias and a little hatchet have played conspicuous parts in the proceedings in Police Court this week. On Thursday morning George Huzzard and Ananias were witnesses, and told how they agreed on anything.

Yesterday morning Officer Amos dug up the hatchet. It might have been the same one that little George once used in chopping on the side of a pretty apple tree. No one knows exactly where the hatchet came from, but it was found on Belle Isle, and one Edward Huzzard had it in his hands. Edward will tell the grand jury why he used the rusty little hatchet on the head of Joseph Manning.

Manning appeared in court with a lot of bandages placed around his head by Dr. Pitt of the ambulance. The two men lived on an island in the river, and Huzzard said that Manning invaded his domicile the night before and wanted to raise a row. Huzzard stopped him with the hatchet, and he couldn't tell anything but the truth about the matter when he was taken up to the court.

The hatchet was found in the room which sat Mr. Crutchfield yesterday morning.

Then came a sad case for the attention of the court. J. T. Chiles, a white man, was accused of stealing brass from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. He confessed to the theft of the brass, and said that he did so because his wife and child had been hungry. The wife, a sweet-faced young woman, appeared with him and wept with him when he was sentenced to spend thirty days in jail.

Justice Crutchfield took into consideration the extenuating circumstances surrounding the case, and he ordered the man's release on a return date, after he had made a good man out of him.

George Huzzard, familiarly known as "Snowball" because of the darkness of his hide, will explain to a jury his reasons for breaking into a stable and destroying a desk.

Thomas Pollard blackjacked Charles Hazefield and went to the grand jury for it.

LAW WORKED BOTH WAYS

Judge Who Fined Man Paid for Expensive Meal.

In a hamlet not far from New York lived a justice of the peace who is well liked by all the people. His cases for the most part are held on the veranda of his country place in summer, and in his library during the chilly days of spring and when the snows fly in winter.

The "Judge," as he is known far and wide in the hamlet, is fond of out-door life, and when he is out on a rabbit hunt he keeps his judicial eye open for any offenders who may stray across his path. The game laws in his State are stringent.

Not very long ago the "Judge" met a German who carried a shotgun. The blundering appearance of the pockets of the hunter excited the judicial suspicion. Knowing that it was always safe to stay black-birds and crows, the "Judge" congratulated the German on his success in ridding the community of pests.

The German, a newcomer in the community, repudiated the insinuation that he didn't know game when he saw it, and pulled out of his pocket twelve fat robins, all of which he boldly announced, he had brought down on the wing.

The "Judge" in a roundabout way obtained the German's name and place of residence. The following day the robin slayer found himself before the "Judge" on a charge of violating the Game Law. He pleaded ignorance and guilt. He said he was a poor man and he didn't know any better. He was hungry for his family. But ignorance of the law is no excuse and the "Judge" has since sentenced the man to a fine of $5 per month of season. Twelve birds at $5 per month $60.

The German asked for mercy and the "Judge" knocked off $2 on each bird. This he touched the heart of the German that he paid for them and that the "Judge" has since sent the twelve fat robins to the "Hill House" with his compliments, and that day the "Court" invited some of his epicure friends to dine on robin pie.

Some one "practiced" on the "Judge," and he had had robins in his possession. The course of procedure by which he explained to his intimate friends that his robin pie dinner cost him $24. Since then, when he meets a man with a gun in the roadway he looks in another direction.

To Address Tobacco Growers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

POWHTAN COURTHOUSE, VA., November 18.—Mr. J. B. Allen, from Tennessee, will address the farmers at Powhatan county at Powhatan Courthouse, Va., Monday at noon on the subject of the prices of dark tobacco. Mr. Allen is said to be a good speaker.

"19-YEAR-OLD INFANT" SUDDENLY A WOMAN

Miss Scally, of Morristown, N. J., Emerges From Third Period of "Babyhood."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

MORRISTOWN, N. J., November 18.—For the third time within several years Miss Mary Scally, known as "the 19-year-old infant," has emerged from the mental condition pertaining to babyhood and has regained her grasp on affairs.

During the periods of "infancy" to which this remarkable young woman occasionally relapses, her mind is almost a blank. She can be aroused only by things which attract babies, such as bright lights and jingling bells.

Charcoal is a remedy, she remembers nothing that transpired during the mental hiatus.

Miss Scally's last attack lasted six months. Among her first questions upon recovery was regarding the near approach of the Fourth of July. She was surprised to learn that Thanksgiving is the next holiday.

Her physicians think she will not relapse into the baby state again. She is a woman in strength and stature.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy, she remembers nothing that transpired during the mental hiatus.
